Dylan Ross, an associate attorney with the Firm, earned his Juris Doctor from the University of Notre Dame Law School in May 2018. Prior to graduating from Notre Dame, Mr. Ross served as a judicial extern to the Honorable Harlin D. Hale, United States Bankruptcy Judge for the Northern District of Texas, where he developed a passion for bankruptcy law. After graduation, Mr. Ross returned home to the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Mr. Ross's experience includes analyzing statutes and case law for trials and appeals and drafting pleadings, motions, and discovery requests and responses. Mr. Ross has also assisted in the representation of numerous non-dischargeability actions on behalf of a multi-million dollar financial institution against commercial debtors for fraud and bad faith filings under Sections 523 and 727 of the Bankruptcy Code. Mr. Ross's assistance on these matters required him to frequently research and analyze applicable state law for jurisdictions throughout the country as well as communicate with local counsel and debtor's counsel to reach amicable resolutions in the adversary proceedings.
